

SENATE COMMITTEE CHARACTERIZES ALL STRIKES AS INDUSTRIAL BARBARISM; BOTH CAPITAL AND LABOR RAPPED IN REPORT

No Place in Country For Despotism on Either Side, Members Declare.

MUST CONSIDER PUBLIC

Neither the money interests nor organized industrial workers have right to arrogate to themselves sole means of determining questions of public interest.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 8.—Characterizing all strikes as industrial barbarism and declaring that there is no place in this country either for industrial despotism or labor despotism, the Senate committee authorized to investigate the steel strike today presented a report covering its hearings, both in Washington and in Pittsburgh, and criticizing both the workers and the employers in the controversy which resulted in at least partial disruption of the steel industry.

The committee's main conclusion, concurred in by all members, was expressed in the statement that the public has a right to demand that capital shall not arrogate to itself the right to determine in its own way those industrial questions and it is the same as to labor and the duty upon Congress to provide some way of adjusting these difficulties.

As a permanent preventative of strikes, which the committee concedes are apparently the only way for labor to secure even its just demands if employers refuse to grant them, it is recommended that Congress authorize the establishment of some such mediation agency with well-defined powers as the recently dissolved War Labor Board.

RED CROSS ROLL CALL MADE A SATISFACTORY START HERE YESTERDAY

Total of 717 Members Enrolled at Service Headquarters, Pittsburgh, Nov. 7, 1919.

Very satisfactory beginning yesterday when seven booths at different points in the city enrolled a total of 717 members, 621 of which were war chest and 96 new subscriptions. The reports from the booth were as follows: Keagy's drug store, South Side, in charge of Mrs. Louis M. Reynolds, Mrs. Clara Pritchard and Miss Nettie Hood, 184 war chest and seven new memberships.

Second National bank, in charge of Mrs. A. E. Kilde and Mrs. J. French Kerr, 87 war chest and 16 new memberships.

Orpheum theatre, in charge of Miss Harriet Clark and Miss Helen Armstrong, 61 war chest and 23 new memberships.

West Penn waiting room, in charge of Mrs. John L. Gana and Miss Rebecca Sauter, 60 war chest and 11 new memberships.

Wright-Metzler company's store, in charge of Mrs. Josephine Reid and Mrs. P. E. Merrell, 105 war chest and 10 new memberships.

Post office, in charge of Miss Rose Donegan, Mrs. R. S. McKee and Miss Margaret Harrigan, 56 war chest and 18 new memberships.

Solson theatre, in charge of Mrs. E. C. Higbee and Mrs. Otis R. Carpenter, 68 war chest and nine new memberships.

Smutz building, West Side, in charge of Mrs. John F. Torrence, two war chest and two new memberships.

Some of the booths were late in opening up hence did not have quite as much opportunity for enrollment as others. As it was the results of the day greatly exceeded those in Uniontown, where only 108 members were enrolled, 82 war chest and 26 new, at three booths. The number of booths there has been increased to five during the remainder of the campaign.

Chairman Hooper of the Connellsville branch is very much interested in the progress of the campaign, here and is giving it considerable attention. Speaking of the importance of Connellsville making a good showing he said:

"If the people of Connellsville and vicinity only appreciated the opportunities the Red Cross has for doing good right here at home, they would not only gladly give $100 for membership in this great organization of mercy, but they would multiply that amount many times in order to better equip it to continue its splendid work."

Persons who already have membership through subscriptions of more than $2.00 to the Fayette County War Chest, should remember that unless they renew it during the present campaign their membership will lapse. This should not be permitted to state all its members now enrolled and many more besides."

Mrs. Hooper has received a report from I. M. Snow, superintendent of the Pittsburgh Wood Preserving company's plant at Adelaide that the 43 employees have enrolled, each paying $1.00, thereby becoming the first industrial establishment in the Connellsville district entitled to a 10% per cent window card.

BALTIMORE & OHIO TUNNELS AND BRIDGES BRISTLE WITH GUNS DURING COAL STRIKE

As a precaution against damage by radicals during the coal strike guards have been placed on tunnels and bridges of the Baltimore & Ohio railroad, and others also, it is understood. Between 80 and 100 men have been assigned to duty on the Connellsville division of the Baltimore & Ohio, it is said, and the number will be increased to 125 or more.

Every important bridge and all the tunnels are being guarded by men armed with Winchester rifles and shotguns. At Sand Patch tunnels on the Baltimore & Ohio and Western Maryland there are platoons of them.

The policing of bridges will be different from that in effect during the war in that there will be no prohibition against walking over them where this is necessary. The usual traffic by pedestrians in these cases will be permitted. The guards will simply see to it that no damage is caused.

MINE WORKERS OFFICIALS ORDERED TO WITHDRAW COAL STRIKE EDICT BY NOV. 11

By Associated Press.

INDIANAPOLIS, Nov. 8.—United Mine Workers officials were today ordered to withdraw the strike order under which 400,000 men quit work November 1.

The mandate was issued by Judge A. R. Anderson in the United States District court after a hearing in which the union attorneys fought vainly for a chance to present arguments on the right to strike.

The union was given until November 11 at 6 P. M. to issue the cancellation. This date was selected because so many defendants were absent. The union attorneys explained the absence must be summoned by telegraph from many parts of the country to issue the cancellation order.

The attorneys announced that President Lewis and Secretary Greene of the union purposed obeying the court order but that they could not speak for their fellow officials.

HUNDREDS NABBED IN FEDERAL RAIDS ON RED PLOTTERS

By Associated Press.

More than 100 persons were today said to have plotted violent demonstrations throughout the country today in commemoration of the second anniversary of the establishment of the Russian soviet government were in the hands of federal authorities today awaiting deportation or such other action as may be ordered against them.

About 700 men and women suspected of having been implicated in the plots were seized late last night in a series of raids conducted in 14 cities. Further arrests were promised by federal agents in some cities today.

More than 150 persons were taken in a raid in New York which was conducted personally by William J. Flynn, chief of the bureau of investigation of the Department of Justice. All except 52 were released after examination.

J., Jackson, Mich., and five Connecticut towns, New Haven, Hartford, Waterbury, Ansonia and New Britain.

Federal agents generally declined to say they had been planned in Washington several weeks ago. It was reported that in some cities the plots included placing of bombs and the use of firearms.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 8.—The deportation of all aliens engaged in Red activities has been determined upon by the Department of Justice. Attorney General Palmer announced today. Details of the widespread clean-up of radicals last night and today show that more than 200 were arrested in 18 cities. Mr. Palmer has asked the Department of Labor to deport all of them. GIRL ENTICED AWAY

Is Charge Made by Father of Mabel Hammer, South Connellsville.

That his daughter, Mabel 13 years old, who disappeared from her home at South Connellsville for a short time yesterday was enticed away by an older girl, Clara Hampshire of the South Side, was the charge made today by W. R. Hammer. The two planned to go to Uniontown, according to the story told by Mabel to her father. The Hampshire girl wrote the letter found in the traveling bag picked up by hunters in the South Side woods, according to Mr. Hammer. It is presumed, he said, that it was the intention to mail it when they were ready to leave. The Hampshire girl was not able to get her clothes because her mother was home all day and the trip was postponed until next week. It developed that one of the hunters who found the bag saw the girls hide it. The father also charged that the Hampshire girl secured $150 cash and some groceries at a South Connellsville store by misrepresentation and that she attempted to secure $50 and other goods later but the scheme was nipped after Mrs. Hammer detected an apparent over-charge in her bill. Mrs. Hammer's watch which Mabel said was in her desk at school was found there.

FUND FOR BLIND MAN

Abe Daniels Conducts Hat Sale That Brings New Sum for West Sider.

Abe Cohen of the West Side, who suffered the loss of his sight, was the beneficiary of a bargain hat sale conducted yesterday by Abe Daniels. This is not Daniels' usual line of business. He deals in metals, principally—junk, to be explicit, being head of the firm of Daniels & Miller, which operates a yard in Fayette street. This sale was not for profit. Daniels secured a lot over 100 hats from a Crawford avenue dealer and carried them to the office of Alderman Fred Munk, where they were quickly disposed of at a dollar each. Such was the demand that Abe secured another lot, 90 in all.

The fund thus raised was turned over to Mr. Cohen who has been taking treatment with the hope of restoration of his sight.

WEST PENN BRINGS MILLION PERSONS HERE EVERY YEAR

Figures Show Average of 2,739 a Day, of Whom 1,500 Stop Off in This City.

LOCAL PAYROLL IS LARGE

Monthly Disbursements to Employees Reach $100,000; Company Operates 330 Miles of Track in Three States; Big Power Plant Now Under Way.

Accustomed to the frequent arrival in the city and departure of the trolley car one may note casually that each usually carries capacity or near capacity of human freight, but few ever stop to think what this constant procession for a year might mean in passengers or how many of them stop here or pass through. As a matter of fact it means much to Connellsville, to its varied business interests and to the traveling public. The West Penn Railway company, which operates this trolley system which permeates all parts of Southwestern Pennsylvania, and reaches into West Virginia and Ohio, has furnished some interesting figures as affecting Connellsville.

Annually, it is learned from an official of the company, the West Penn carries into Connellsville a million persons. This means an average of 2,739 every day in the year. But what is more significant is that 55 per cent of this number, about 1,500 daily, stop off in the city, bent on shopping, varied business missions, visits, etc. Were it not for the frequent trips of the trolley cars, Connellsville stores would be but a fraction of the business that now is theirs and the same applies to the business and professional interests who cater to the public.

Another thing not generally known is that the West Penn puts into circulation here a huge sum of money each year. The monthly payroll is now more than $100,000. It is learned that monthly the trolley company must be classed as one of the great organizations affecting the daily life and business of Connellsville and not Connellsville alone, but the entire coke region.

Since the present railway system of the West Penn had its inception in a short line from Connellsville to Leisenring in 1903 to the present, at which time it operates some 339 miles of track in three states, the West Penn has had a remarkable growth. The major company of the system, the West Penn Railway company, and its subsidiaries, the Wheeling Traction company, these embracing many smaller units, serve with trolley transportation, light and power a territory of 2,500 square miles in the Youghiogheny, Monongahela, Allegheny and Ohio valleys.

They were charged with being in the streets after dark and allowed to go with the understanding they will conduct themselves discreetly hereafter.

A number of boys from the South Side, against whom charges of throwing and otherwise annoying residents of that section also appeared, thus avoiding the sending of an officer with warrants because of their failure to report yesterday. They, too, were allowed to go with a warning.

COAL DELIVERY NOW IS PERMITTED UNDER THE PRIORITIES RULE

Only in Case of Urgent Need, However, Says Letter of Instructions to Railroad Officials.

Delivery of coal to public utilities and industries on the priority list is provided under the following conditions by local railroad officials. The copy herewith printed came from Federal Manager J. B. Toke to the Pittsburgh & Lake Erie but other roads are affected in the same way. The letter is from A. T. Hardin, regional director. It reads:

"The machinery set up by the Railroad Administration to distribute coal held in transit by the railroads in accordance with the direction of the Fuel Administration is in full operation, and as a result, wherever possible, coal is being distributed in accordance with the priority established by the Fuel Administrator where such coal is absolutely needed. Therefore, where there is real need for coal the problem should be taken up immediately with the railroad ordinarily supplying the demand.

"It is of course essential, both because of the present bituminous coal strike and in order that the needs for the coming winter may be looked after that fuel be used as economically as possible. It should be remembered that the railroads do not interfere with the delivery of coal to designated consignees until the day before the present strike. In order to conserve fuel as much as possible regional directors of railroads have been given authority where it seems absolutely necessary to eliminate for use time being train service, but in order to provide for the essential business needs of the country no general curtailment of train service is contemplated. The maintenance of public transportation service is of paramount importance. In order to serve the needs of the general public the interruption of traffic should be maintained as far as possible."

WAR HISTORY OF 110TH INFANTRY TO BE PUBLISHED

Traditions of Regiment Will Be Preserved to Posterity in Book Form.

RECORD IS VERY COMPLETE

Publication Grows Out of Plan of Lt. Colonel Henry Coulter to Have Compiled for His Own Information the Service of Every Man in the Unit.

The war history of the 110th Infantry is to be published shortly in book form, according to announcement at old headquarters at Greensburg. One hundred fifty copies of the edition have been allotted to Connellsville and members of the command and their families living here may secure what information they desire by application to Major Robert S. McKee or Lieutenant J. Montgomery Dilworth. Generally among the members of the command there has been the impression that the traditions of the regiment should be preserved in historical form. Soon after the regiment was mustered out Lieutenant Colonel Henry Coulter of Greensburg engaged the services of E. Morris Walker of the personnel department to secure for him the individual record of each officer and enlisted man of the command. His intention was to secure this information for his own use. Other officers, however, decided they would like copies of this. The number so increased that it was deemed wise to have the record printed. This record of each member, as kept by the personnel department, embraces more than 7,000 names and aggregates 350,000 words.

The records have been gone over carefully by Colonel Joseph H. Thompson, Lieutenant Colonel Edward Martin, Lieutenant Colonel Henry Coulter and other officers, including Captain John L. Robinson and Lieutenant J. Montgomery Dilworth of Company D and Major Robert S. McKee of the Medical Department. The officers consulted with many non-commissioned officers and enlisted men of the regiment.

Besides the individual record, the publication will contain a 40,000-word history of the regiment covering all its activities from the time it entered the service until it was mustered out. This has been prepared from all official records which have been gone over by the committee and corrected. In connection with the history will be the experiences of the boys who were in German prison camps, by Captain W. Curtis Truxel of Somerset, who was among the large number of members of Company C captured in the battle of the Marne.

There will be an abbreviated war diary covering the daily movements of each man it can be ascertained where each was killed or wounded. Tables will be given showing the different kinds of casualties suffered by each unit of the regiment, also the casualties by campaigns.

Copies of personal citations, complimentary letters from commanders affecting the 28th Division, medal awards and much other information, covering everything of interest during the time the regiment and the 28th Division participated in the World War are included.

Three poems are included in the printed matter: "The National Guard," "The Cootie" and "Only Volunteers." There will be eight full page maps and 150 illustrations.

The work will be dedicated to the Third Pennsylvania Infantry, a brief history of which has been prepared by Colonel George K. Rupp.

The book will contain 250 pages, and will measure 9x13 inches. It will be printed double column. The binding will be silk cloth and this edition will sell at $2.50 unless more than 2,000 copies are subscribed, in which event the price will be lowered. The history will be supplied at absolute cost.

Many officers and men have signified a desire for a better than cloth binding and for those who wish it there will be supplied leather binding, with the name of the buyer embossed thereon, at a cost of $10. On these there will be a profit of about $3 which will go to a fund looking toward increasing the number of illustrations to be used in the book. The leather bound books will have a photographic roster which was prepared at Camp Hancock.

"Comrades desiring the book will please act promptly," says the call from the committee.

NEW REGULATIONS COVERING SALE OF ALCOHOL RECEIVED

Pittsburgh Revenue Officers Get Outline of How Much and Where It Can Be Sold.

PITTSBURGH, Nov. 3.—New regulations from Washington covering the sale of liquors containing more than one-half of one per cent of alcohol have been received by the local internal revenue office, and wholesale prosecutions are expected at an early date, it was declared yesterday. The rules provide the use of stimulants by physicians, hospitals and churches.

That the carrying out of prosecutions in the Pittsburgh district is particularly difficult because of the large territory that the district takes in was pointed out yesterday. There are 24 counties under the local office, which renders it hard for agents to accomplish the work that is done in districts such as New York City, where efforts may be concentrated, it was declared.

Much evidence has been gathered, it was said, and it is thought that the office will be ready to strike within a few weeks.

All who desire to use alcohol in manufacture, except distilleries and similar lines of business, the new rules state, must qualify by filing with the prohibition enforcement officer of the state an application for a permit in triplicate, to be approved by the commissioner of internal revenue, and a bond in duplicate, to be approved by the prohibition enforcement officer.

Two quarts of alcohol during a period of one year may be obtained by physicians without giving bond by filing the proper form together with a sworn statement that the liquor is to be used in their practice. Bond will be required from physicians who use more. Physicians must state that the alcohol is to be used in professional practice only, for the compounding of medicines, or for use without charge for non-beverage purposes.

All who are permitted to use or sell alcohol will be given serial numbers. The permits are not transferable and may be revoked or canceled at any time.

Permit holders will be required to post permits conspicuously in their places of business.

Hospitals must state that the alcohol is to be dispensed to patients in the course of treatment.

Manufacturers of preparations, including flavoring extracts, for cooking purposes and soft drinks, will be required to forward sworn statements giving the name of the preparation, by whom and for whom manufactured, advertising matter distributed with the preparation, and the percentage of alcohol in the finished product.

Following are some of the standards for alcoholic preparations in which non-beverage alcohol may be used:

"Any medicinal preparation will be classed as a medicine, provided the same is unfit for use as a beverage and contains no more alcohol than is necessary for the purpose of extraction, solution, or preservation, and contains in each fluid ounce a dose as a whole or in combination of one or more agents of recognized therapeutic value, and contains no agents either chemically or physiologically incompatible with the active medicinal agents upon which the medicinal claims are based."

The propriety of using wines in religious observances is recognized. Various flavoring extracts are defined in the regulations which describe the proper forms for making applications for sacramental wines and kosher wines, which have been made under the supervision of the Union and Orthodox Rabbis.

Pennsylvania Red Cross Plans.
Memberships for the Red Cross will be accepted at the Pennsylvania post office at 7 A. M. and 7 P. M. each day during the present roll call, with the exception of Sunday. Miss Sue Means, chairman of the roll call committee, will issue window flags and buttons to those who have paid $2 or over to the War Chest.

To Leave Hospital Soon.
James A. Smith, Pittsburgh & Lake Erie Engineer, who underwent an operation at the Mercy hospital, Pittsburgh, is expected to be able to return home early next week.

Service is supplied to 100 or more towns and cities of 1,000 population and upward to the richest, busiest steel, coal and oil producing center in the United States.

Connellsville has long enjoyed the distinction of being the center of electric power generation of the West Penn system. Millions have been invested in the big plant at Fayette station, opposite South Connellsville, developed from time to time until it has reached the capacity permitted by the supply of water during warm weather flow of the Youghiogheny river. In order to largely increase its power generation and meet the demands for current the West Penn is engaged now in the construction of another huge plant at Springdale, Allegheny county, near Pittsburgh, which is to cost $5,000,000.

The Springdale plant was originally laid out with a view to ultimate increase of capacity to 300,000 kilowatts, the intake being designed to handle the entire low-water flow of the Allegheny river, which at this point has a drainage area of 14,000 square miles and the minimum stage a flow of 1,000 cubic feet a second. The capacity of the Springdale plant at the outset will be 40,000 kilowatts.

In connection with the development at Springdale the company has acquired by lease and purchase 3,900 acres of Freeport coal. This is a high quality steaming coal and the vein has an average thickness of seven and one-half feet. By location of the power plant at the coal mines the company will be in position to save freight charges of over $100,000 a year on the initial installation of 140,000 kilowatts. Ralph C. Beerbower, formerly superintendent of the Davidson and Coalbrook plants of the H. C. Frick company at Connellsville and later with the Washington Coal & Coke company at Star Junction, is in charge of the development of the coal property.

Besides the stations at Connellsville and Springdale the West Penn has the big Windsor station at Wheeling, W. Va. The Windsor station was laid out originally for six 30,000 kilowatt units but this number ultimately will be increased to eight as there is an ample supply of water from the Ohio river for cooling. As at Springdale the company has its plant at Wheeling at the mouth of a coal mine tapping 4,000 acres of coal owned by the West Penn and another company jointly.

Other plants are a small one, 6,000 kilowatts, at 42nd street, Wheeling; a non-condensing steam engine plant of 1,400 kilowatts at Washington, Pa.; others at Creighton, Waynesburg and Kittanning, Ligonier and Ohioville and Parsons, W. Va. The Ohioville and Parsons plants are small ones operated by water power, acquired in connection with proposed hydro-electric development which has not yet been undertaken.

Connellsville is the site of the repair shop of the West Penn system. Here, besides the general repair work, are constructed the modern trolley cars now in use.

Daniel Willard, president of the Baltimore & Ohio railroad, accompanied by members of his family, passed through here yesterday afternoon in his private car attached to train No. 15.

According to officials at the local office, President Willard is making a tour of personal inspection over the entire system. During the administration of Director of Railroads W. G. McAdoo, President Willard has taken no part in operating management, it is said. However, he remains at the head of the board of control.

Miscellaneous Shower.

A miscellaneous shower was held last evening at the home of Miss Alta Planigan at Confluence in honor of Miss Sue Marie Younklin, the fiancée of Joseph Rodgers of Pittsburgh. The Planigan home was beautifully decorated for the occasion, a color scheme of pink and white being effectively carried out. Various games and music were the amusements, followed by a prettily appointed luncheon served by Mrs. Planigan, assisted by Mrs. J. F. Clouse. Covers for 22 were laid. Miss Younklin was the recipient of a number of handsome and useful gifts.

OHIO STILL IN DOUBT

Fate of Prohibition Question May Not Be Known for Week or More

By Associated Press.

COLUMBUS, O., Nov. 3.—Whether Ohio voters last Tuesday approved or repudiated the action of the legislature in ratifying the federal prohibition amendment probably will not be known for a week or 10 days.

The vote as tabulated by the secretary of state's office was so close today that it was apparent that nothing but the official count could determine the result.

Only a Cold.

Are you ill? It is often answered—"Oh, it's only a cold." As if a cold was a matter of little consequence, but people are beginning to learn that a common cold is a matter not to be trifled with, that some of the most serious diseases start with a cold. As serious as the first indication of a cold appears, remember that the sooner you get rid of your cold the less danger, and the remedy will help you to throw it off.—Adv.

Granted Marriage Licenses

Jonathan Woodward Love and Jane Evangelina Swann, both of Fairchance, Joseph John McCain of Mount Pleasant and Daisy Willard of New Stanton were granted marriage licenses in Cumberland.

Don't Disregard a Cold.

The influenza and pneumonia that sweep the country a year ago were preceded by an epidemic of colds. Foley's Honey and Tar will check a cold if taken in time, and will also stop a cough of long standing. It promptly gives relief, soothes and heals. Mrs. Geneva Robinson, 88 N. Swan St., Albany, N. Y., writes: "Foley's Honey and Tar is the best cough medicine I ever used. Two bottles broke a most stubborn lingering cough." It loosens phlegm and mucous, clears air passages, eases hoarseness, stops tickling throat. Sold everywhere.—Adv.

NEWSY BATCH OF ITEMS FROM DUNBAR FOR WEEKEND READING

DUNBAR, Nov. 7.—Township Supervisor Charles V. Hardy, having completed as far as practicable the concrete bed of the fair hill road improvement, is now rapidly laying the brick surface in spite of the frequent rains. He has already completed 300 feet of the brick paving, and by the first of December will have the entire half mile completed with the exception of the last 100 feet next the intersection with the state road, which is to be improved by the state next spring. He would have completed this also but was notified that it would not be feasible to do so as the exact grade of the state road at that point had not been determined, and it would be better to leave this part of the township been improved so the junction would be even grade. This completes the first half mile of improved road in this section of the township, and it was only after years of "keeping after it" that it was accomplished.

Application for the improvement of this piece of road was first made by J. L. Keffler in 1905, when he was supervisor, and with it was asked the improvement of the road from Logan's crossing via Cross Keys school house and the Uniontown road to the North Union township line. The state, however, decided to improve the roads toward and through Vanderbilt in preference to the main road between the county's largest cities, and the matter went over. Reapplication was made by W. M. Jacobs when he was supervisor, but it also failed to bring material results. Supervisor Hardy, who succeeded Jacobs, took up the matter and secured co-operation of the American Manganese Manufacturing company and the business men and citizens. This, after two years, had brought matters to a successful issue, and Dunbar at last has the beginning of a good road. As the first half mile is completed, it will be much easier to secure additional improved road and there is hope of uniting the cities of the county with Dunbar in passable winter roads. Meantime North Union township, pleased and in heavy sympathy with the movement to secure a short line improved public road between Connellsville and Uniontown east of the railroads in the interest of safety and the convenience of the traveling public, reaching Connellsville via the proposed and badly needed South Connellsville Young bridge, has of its own accord begun a link of a mile on that proposed road, and has a third of that mile completed eastward from Woods crossing, and is driving the work rapidly as the weather will allow. With the coming of spring it is proposed to apply for a public road from Ferguson to Woods Crossing through Oakmont farm passing the trolley line.

Mrs. David Keffler, of Keffers, was called to Clairton yesterday by the serious illness of her son, Harry B. Keffler, who was reported to have typhoid fever. He is employed in a responsible position in the Carnegie pits there. She left Thursday afternoon.

Mrs. Isaac Miner of South Connellsville, was here Thursday visiting relatives and inspecting the improvements being made in her recently purchased home near Pechin. When the improvements are completed her and her husband will move there.

Among Saturday Connellsville shoppers were Mrs. A. L. Smith of the Furnace, Mrs. Arthur Kennedy of Greenhouse, and Mrs. J. L. Keffler of Keffers.

Miss Coralee Keffler of Ferguson road left Monday to visit relatives in Clairton.

Mrs. Sarah R. Herington and grand nephew, David A. Keffler, Jr., who had been spending the summer at the farm on her home at Keffers, returned to Clairton Sunday, both in much better health than when they left that town in mid-summer.

Miss Mabel Lehman of Keffers, was visiting in Mt. Braddock Thursday. Halloween weather was so unfavorable that little was done in the way of celebrating in this section. However, the three successful church festivals in honor of the day compensated in a measure for the omission.

Mrs. Edward Hay of Uniontown, was visiting her husband's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Grant Hay of Connellsville street, and also Connellsville relatives, Monday.

Mrs. Herman Earhart of Mt. Braddock was in Dunbar and Connellsville Saturday.

Mrs. Mary Hardy and her daughter, Mrs. G. F. Baker and two children of Hardy Hill, were visiting the former's sister, Mrs. E. G. Lehman of Keffers, Monday.

Mrs. Hannah McClain moved Thursday from the Keffers house at Keffers to Palmerston or Oakmont farm south of Ferguson. The house she vacated will be occupied by its owner, Thomas Jeffries, Sr., and family, as soon as some improvements are made.

Mrs. Mattie O. Keffler of Ferguson road was visiting in Uniontown, Sunday.

Mrs. Pearl Cooper and children, Lutellie and Charles, of Thompson, were visiting the former's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Cole of Keffers, Sunday.

Superintendent R. K. Smith of Dunbar township schools was paying the Pechin schools an official visit Monday. He found things in good shape, as usual. Pechin is second to no school of its size in the township, and has had fewer failures for promotion to high school than any other in the township irrespective of size.

John Thorpe is constructing a new combined stable and barn on the property at Keffers he recently purchased from David S. Leapline, preparatory to occupying the property on the 15th of this month. For a number of years Mr. Thorpe has been farm superintendent of Oakmont farm, residing at Beacon Hill. He resigned last month, the resignation to be effective November 15. Thomas Jeffries, who has been the tenant of Mr. Thorpe will on that date occupy his own property recently vacated by Mrs. Hannah McClain.

Memorial services for the late Lewis Bryner who was killed in action in the recent World war, will be held in the Methodist Protestant church here at 11 a. m., Sunday next (Nov. 9). The services will be conducted by Rev. D. E. Miner who had known the young man from boyhood. Rev. Miner will be assisted by Rev. Bolden, pastor of the church. A select choir will render appropriate patriotic selections. As the young man had many friends in Dunbar a large attendance at the services is expected.

G. W. Smiley of Keffers, and David S. Leapline of Pechin, are having electric lights installed in their houses this week.

Miss Gladys Miller of Keffers, stenographer for the American Manganese Manufacturing Co., is able for duty again after a week's confinement to her room with tonsillitis.

Isaac R. Byers of Dickerson Run, the efficient assessor of Dunbar township, was transacting business with J. B. Senior of Keffers, this week.

Henry Cole has fitted up and opened a shoe repairing shop at his home on Ferguson road and, in addition to local trade will assist his son, T. J. Cole, in keeping up with his work at Mt. Braddock.

Dunbar township No. 1 elected a Democratic board as usual, but the election was as hotly contested a fight as has been staged in Dunbar for many years. But it was an exceedingly friendly one. No ill feeling existed, and no scrapping was done. Each side simply did the best it could, and when the vote was counted the result was accepted by all to the same friendly spirit that characterized the all-day battle. A feature was the unanimous election of J. L. Keffler, the county's leading Bryanite, for registry assessor, a mark of confidence he highly appreciates.

Rate off to M. J. Tully of Trotter, the township's new supervisor. He is a hustler and a political fighter whose frequent turnouts only stimulated him to greater efforts. As his opponent was Frank McLaughlin of No. 5, he had a foe man worthy of his steel. Here's hoping he may make the township a supervisor the voters may be proud of.

Henry Reed moved from the Feather farm to Oliphant Furnace Thursday, he having secured a good position at that place.

DIRECTORS MEET

Final Sessions of Annual Convention Stated for Today.

School directors of Fayette county gathered in Uniontown Friday for the final sessions of the annual convention of the Fayette County Directors' association, which began yesterday. The attendance has been small and a disappointment to County Superintendent John S. Carroll and others interested.

Mr. Shaw attended the sessions today. Others on the program were Frank A. Tarr, Lower Tyrone; J. W. Miller, Jefferson; S. P. Ashe, Connellsville; and J. H. Alleman, Uniontown.

The convention was opened by Mr. Carroll in the absence of the president of the directors' association, Dr. Armstrong conducting the devotional exercises. Extensive reports of the convention of the National Educational association were given by J. Buell Snyder, Perryopolis, and of the State Directors' association by L. C. Sutton, Georges township, and G. M. Griffin, Springhill township.

Consolidation of schools was presented by Frank A. Tarr of Lower Tyrone, followed by a general discussion of the subject. At the afternoon session J. W. Miller, Jefferson, discussed the needs of the rural schools and was followed by S. P. Ashe who outlined the duties of the school directors. The next period was taken by J. H. Alleman with a discussion of directors as a factor in education. The afternoon session was closed with an address by Dr. Armstrong upon "Education for the Times."

Men and women suffering from backache, rheumatic pains, stiff and swollen joints, lameness and soreness, will be glad to read how one woman found relief from kidney and bladder trouble.

Mrs. G. Hyde, Homestead, Mich., writes: "I have been troubled with weak kidneys, and several times in the last ten years I had that terrible backward and tired, aforesaid, scarcely able to do my work. Foley Kidney Pills made me feel like a new person." Sold everywhere.—Adv.

Constipation.

Most laxatives and cathartics afford only temporary relief and should be used only for that purpose. When you want permanent relief take Chamberlain's Tablets and be careful to observe the directions with each package. These tablets not only move the bowels, but improve the appetite and strengthen the digestion.—Adv.

TO SAVE THE ELECTRIC STEEL UNDERTAKING.

The efforts some business men of the city, in making to save the electric steel plant, and the fact that the plant is a going concern, deserve to be encouraged. No one is a means of providing an opportunity for the stockholders to recoup their losses but that it may also be demonstrated that Conneltsville business men have the courage to tackle a tough proposition and stay with it until it has reached the turn in the tide rather than give up and lose their investment as well as the chance to retain an industry for the city.

The misfortune of this enterprise began early and on account of war conditions and the rise in prices of materials they were extraordinarily severe. Inadequacy of working capital and some slackness in management not unprofitableness of the business had it been permitted to get under way, were the principal causes of its failure.

The success of the electrical process of making steel, has been thoroughly demonstrated. The demand for the product has become large as well as steady, and the growth of the problem this enterprise had to face, and still faces, is one of finance not seeking a market.

There is very natural aversion on part of persons who have already lost money to make further investment in an undertaking that has failed. But in the case of the electric steel plant there is very great probability, if the plant can be re-capitalized, and adequately so, that this is all that will be needed to turn it into a profitable enterprise and thus make it possible to reimburse the former stockholders.

Such is the purpose of the men who have courageously taken hold of the property. To place themselves in a position to be reimbursed stockholders are asked to make new subscriptions to the amount of 25 per cent of their former holdings. There being much less element of risk and uncertainty now than there was when the original subscriptions were made, prudent and wise business policy as well as a desire to conserve an important industry to Conneltsville ought to impel stockholders to reflect very seriously before refusing absolutely to assist in a re-capitalization of the undertaking.

CALL OFF THE CONFERENCE.

In view of the failure of the Industrial Conference to accomplish its purpose of bringing about a better understanding between capital and labor and in devising a set of rules or code for the adjustment of questions arising between employers and employees it would seem almost a waste of time to convene another such conference as the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers has proposed at the International body now in session in Washington.

The outline the brotherhood has proposed like the advance note of the late industrial conference, sets forth some very sound principles, the adoption and practice of which in every way desirable provided assent to them could be secured in such a spirit as would constitute a kind of insurance that they would be applied and observed as and for the purposes intended.

But having in mind the futile attempt already made along this line it is almost too much to hope that such an agreement can be reached upon the fundamental essential and necessary to a permanent solution of the problems now confronting capital and labor and the reasons why capital and labor cannot at this time come to a right understanding of their relations through the medium of a conference are not far to seek.

In the disturbed and disordered economic, labor and industrial conditions now prevailing too many men have lost their balance, their sureness of judgment, their sense of fairness, their willingness to make concessions in the interests of the common good. The leaders and followers, capital and labor, have each worked out an extreme solution to present day problems to which they cling with the obstinate conviction that their plan is alone the panacea of industrial ills. By whomsoever a conference might be convened, and regardless of the care exercised in selecting the conference, the assembled body would after all be merely a group or a series of groups, of theorists or idealists, each with preconceived notions as to how this, that or the other evil in our economic or industrial life can or should be remedied.

The unrest at present prevailing is in very large part the result of the tendency among persons or so-called leaders to work out some theory or plan to apply to present disturbed conditions rather than getting to work so that conditions may here in opportunity to work themselves out by well-known and established laws. The more conferences held with scores of propagandists of every conceivable degree and kind are rushing about seeking whom they may convert, would simply multiply the opportunities they seek for airing their divergent and more or less impractical views. Such gatherings get no where and so long as the proponents of the varied and variegated theories maintain their present attitude toward each other nothing concrete will result. By far the better way would be to abandon or dissolve the conferences planned or in session and set the delegates to work in some useful productive lines. Stopping these gatherings until men and conditions have returned to normal will remove one of the most fruitful sources of misunderstanding, enmity and strife. After everybody gets to work there will be no need for conferences.

Many of the so-called problems need no other treatment than to have the right cure applied to them. If not made the subject of persistent agitation, discussion and debate and the agitators and debaters builded them selves in enlarging production of the commodities the world now needs, no one of the reputed ills would cure themselves. The world would quickly recuperate from the strain of war. Strife would cease the term unrest would become obsolete and happiness and contentment would supplant uneasiness and strife.

Call off the conferences and put the delegates to work.

The war work of the Red Cross is finished but its work here at home is just beginning. You ought to be just as glad to help in the latter as you were in the former. Go to the nearest roll call booth and prove that you are.

The Democratic administration in the future me congratulating to Governor Coolidge is rather overdoing the thing. Supporting him a little more vigorously in his fight against anarchy in the State before the election would have been much more to the point.

Returned soldiers, sailors and marines can round out their splendid record of service by taking membership in both The American Legion and the Red Cross. There are no ill effects in either—both are right at the heart of all good citizens are glad to perform.

WHERE ARE WE GOING?

Is Inquiry Raised in Correspondent's Mind at Halloween Celebration.

Never were truer words spoken than these: "As a man thinks in his heart so he is." The thoughts and desires of a human heart are an unfailing barometer to the true nature and character of that individual.

No one can read the heart and mind and the only reasonable estimate we can form of the character of a man is by the fruit it bears. So only can we judge an individual's character by his inner thoughts and desires, and spontaneously translated into visible living life.

If I am alone, there we place an opportunity, on last Monday night for the boys and girls the young men and young women of Conneltsville and vicinity to show their colors to prove their character when they were permitted to fully gratify their heart's desire without fear of detection or identification after the cover of masks and other make-ups and it just takes such opportunities as these to bring out of what is in the heart of people.

After seeing and hearing only a few of the things that transpired on the night of Conneltsville last on Monday night, on wonder at the condition of society today.

Can we really feel proud of our much vaunted civilization?

Many members of Conneltsville are all proud of their youth.

When you come to fully comprehend the fact that the language and conduct in evidence throughout that night on the streets when they were left to their own volition are a true index to the character and lives of these young people can you wonder that the time first that help to maintain the spiritual life of this country have almost gone out notwithstanding the great and laborious activity of the ponderous church machinery?

Land which is growing and grating at every joint for the want of the lubrication composed of real heart regeneration and unselfish love to God and man.

Do you realize that the chief cause of this condition of the present rising generation is the lack of moral training and Christian living in the part of parents, teachers and preachers? And the training they are getting on the streets, in the pool rooms, the picture shows, dance halls and the public and high schools?

Don't you realize that these young people of the present must be lifted up to a higher plane of life, to the future of our community and country?

Parents, teachers and preachers are all to blame for the present condition of the youth of this country. We cannot individually look after the whole world but we can each sweep before our own doors.

You must and will be responsible for the harvest when the reaping time comes.

Think of what the end shall be.

Lower Meat Prices

In these times of unusually high prices for all kinds of foods, and unusually high prices for all other necessities of life as well, it is significant to note the important reductions in the prices of meats of all kinds during the last few weeks, reductions in the most important single class of food which the average household requires. A big corn crop this season, which is used largely for fattening hogs and cattle, has been an important factor in the reduction of pork and beef prices. This reduction will be observed to a more or less extent wherever you may be buying meats, but we want to say to you that if you are seeking to buy meats of any kinds at the lowest prices consistent with high class quality you must visit a Union Supply Company meat department. Our advantageous buying facilities enable us to offer you the very best grade of all kinds of beef and beef products, pork and pork products, as well as all other articles of food found in well stocked, up-to-date meat shops, at the lowest prices. A comparison of our quality, service and prices is solicited, which will undoubtedly result in your meat patronage.

SCENE FROM "AN UNPARDONABLE SIN"

THE SOISSON.

"THE UNPARDONABLE SIN"—An authorized version of Major Rupert Hughes' story by the same name, with Blanche Sweet, the celebrated screen star, will be presented Monday and Tuesday.

"The Unpardonable Sin" was completed on the Pacific Coast, a few weeks ago at a time when there were assembled in Los Angeles practically all of the big men of the motion picture industry, and it was before an audience composed of these men that the photoplay was first exhibited. The consensus of opinion was that "The Unpardonable Sin" was big in every sense of the word—big in the story told, big in its manner of telling, and big in the work of Blanche Sweet, the star, and the players who support her. This early opinion has been more than confirmed by the reviews of moving picture critics in New York who have recently been afforded the opportunity of passing judgment upon it.

The story is by Major Rupert Hughes and it first appeared in serial form in the Red Book. The complete book was published not long after and at once established itself as a best seller. While dealing with subject matter related to the recent world war, the picture is in no sense a "war picture," being entirely devoid of battle scenes, etc. The tale is merely one of love and adventure, written in the style which Rupert Hughes, better than any other living American author, knows how to use. Blanche Sweet appears as a winsome American girl, possessed not only of girlish charm, but also of the nerve, temper, and aggressiveness which is characteristic of the modern American girl. Matt Moore is just a plain, everyday American lad of the type that may be met anywhere in the United States. The obstacle these two surmount in their efforts to penetrate a hostile country in search of two defenseless women upon whom has been perpetrated "the unpardonable sin" are pictured to provide a screen story that keeps audiences everywhere on the very edges of their seats.

THE SOISSON.

"ALMOST A HUSBAND"—The story of an accidental groom, with Will Rogers in the leading role is today's feature attraction. Comedy drama depicts paths coming to make this one of the finest entertainments of the year. A human star in a human story about human people. The story of "Almost a Husband," adapted from Ople Read's widely read novel "Old Bachelor," is different from the ordinary run of screen stories as is Will Rogers' personality from that of every other motion picture star. It is a story of a small town life, masterly blend of humor, drama and pathos. Above all, it is a warmly human story, in which human characters do human things. As a motion picture star, Mr. Rogers is new. As a figure of public interest, he is not new. One of America's foremost humorists, the author of several widely circulated books and the big star in the biggest legitimate show in the country, the Ziegfeld Follies, he has a solidly established reputation and is known in every city, town, cross-road in the country. His following as a stage star and humorist equals that of the screen's most popular luminaries.

THE PARAMOUNT.

"THE HOUSE DIVIDED"—In which Herbert Rawlinson and Sylvia Breamer, the Blackton co-stars, have the leading roles, is being presented today. The story had no suggestion of the war, and though the adaptation brings it up to date and sets its action in London and France, the war does not enter into the development. The only hint of the conflict is in the closing scenes, when the hero and his French home after the former has been found by "the other woman" who has been a caution worker, and a friend who has served as a British officer.

The cast selected by Commodore Blackton to present the principal characters includes the Blackton stars Herbert Rawlinson and Sylvia Breamer, Lieutenant Lawrence Grossmith, Little Charles and Violet Blackton, William Humphrey, Eric Mayne, Sam He Crute and Marie Burke. Jack Martin assisted Commodore Blackton on the production work.

A selected comedy is also being shown.

DEAN OF COLLEGE COACHES IS TITLE OF KEENE FITZPATRICK OF PRINCETON

"Dean of American College Coaches." That is the title that truthfully belongs to Keene Fitzpatrick of Princeton.

Entering upon his thirtieth year as trainer and coach of college athletes, the dignified popular "Dean," who first saw the light of day nearly fifty years ago in Northampton, Mass., is recognized as the home of the country's best trainers—takes up his duties at Princeton this week.

Fitzpatrick is loved. Princeton has learned to love Fitzpatrick just as much as it does the members of the famous Fox family. Sam White and others who have brought glory to the Jungsietown institution. He has built up the athletic department, just as he had done at Michigan, where he was the big man of the middle West before going to Princeton.

Michigan also had learned to respect Fitzpatrick. His word was always law, writes John J. Mahan in Boston Globe.

Keene always has been of quiet disposition, preferring to let his deeds speak for him. They have, and when classes in graduating at Princeton honored him as an honorary member of their classes, it speaks volumes of the esteem and respect they have toward him.

With the late Mike Murphy, "Pooch" Donovan, of Harvard, "Fitz" Donovan, the first American sprinter to run 100 yards in 9.5 seconds; Johnny Mack of Yale, "Sitt" Peat and others, he was one of the noted group of sprinters, who trained at Sunnyside Park, N.Y., for the professional foot races in the days before amateur athletics was established.

Organized Famous Teams. He was one of the first to organize the famous hose, hook and ladder teams, when racing of this kind was so popular and the rivalry between Massachusetts towns was keen.

It was at Yale that Fitzpatrick made his start as a trainer in 1890 and 1891. Contrary to the general impression, Fitz was alone in handling the coaching of the football players and coaching the track men.

SCRAPPING MANAGER STILL IN BASEBALL

Both Leagues Boast of Leaders Handy With Their Fists.

Former Star Player Laments Fact That Game Is Becoming Hand-shaking Institution—Diamond Battles Not Numerous.

Jess Burkett, former big league star batter, recently lamented the fact that baseball was becoming a hand-shaking institution. There is not enough fight in the modern game, of baseball to suit the aggressive Jess. Perhaps battles on the diamond are not as numerous as they once were, but it cannot be said that the present condition which Burkett mourns has been brought about entirely by the present crop of managers, for in the big leagues today nearly all of the players are known quantities as far as scrapping goes.

In the American league there are two premier performers with their fists in Ed Barrows of the Red Sox and "Kid" Gleason of the Chicago White Sox. And Jimmy Burke of the Browns and Clarke Griffith of the Senators cannot be considered shrinking violets.

The National league, however, is much better equipped in the matter of fighting leaders in Hugo Bezdek of the Pirates, John McGraw of the Giants, Branch Rickey of the Cardinals, Fred Mitchell of the Cubs and George Stinney of the Braves. Any of this crowd will battle, and if rumors can be credited, any of them can, in a pinch, go to the mat with an obstreperous player who might happen to get the idea he can "run" the box.

Connie Mack of the Athletics, Miller Huggins of the Yanks and Hughie Jennings of the Tigers might be charged as the peaceful delegates, because they invariably try to settle by arbitration what the other scrapping managers want to iron out in a battle.

Age usually takes much of the fire of the scrapping leaders, and even John McGraw is inclined to let pass some galling incidents that only a couple of seasons ago would have sent the "Little Napoleon" into a hurricane of rage. The officials and not the managers of baseball are responsible for the conditions of the present, for, as Pat Moran says, the player who fights for his point now is a coward instead of an aggressive ball player.

BALL PLAYERS GOOD AS FOOTBALL STARS

Several Besides Thorpe Could Make Good on Gridiron.

Leslie Mann, Eddie Collins and "Rabbit" Maranville Rank as Being Particularly Clever—Others Equally as Good.

Jim Thorpe of the Braves who is playing professional football this fall is not the only big league star who could devote his time quite profitably to the gridiron game.

Of course few desire to do so. The risk of getting injured is so great that it would be foolhardy for any major league player in his prime to play football. Thorpe is an exception. He is a second Achilles, in the matter of injury, and has never known what it is to get hurt in the game.

There are several major league ball players who have starred on the gridiron. Thorpe's prowess as a football player is well known and he needs little introduction. While playing with the Carlisle Indian school he starred in every game.

Leslie Mann is a football player of no little ability. While he was starring at the Springfield Training school he established a big reputation and was chosen by many critics for the All-American team in his time.

Mann played halfback and was an exceptional player. He could average nearly 50 yards and often his kicks carried for a distance of 60 yards and more before hitting the soil. As a broken-field runner he was one of the greatest. He was especially brilliant in running back kick-offs or punts and once started was a hard man to down. Eddie Collins has also been ranked by experts as among the best football players. Collins starred in the quarterback position at Columbia, several years back.

One of the best football players among big leaguers who never attended college, but who would surely have been a star in the university world had he done so, is "Rabbit" Maranville, the peppery little shortstop of the Braves.

The gods of the U. S. S. Pennsylvania will bear witness to the Rabbit's ability on the gridiron. The Boston star virtually won them the championship with a number of that crew last season. Maranville is best at running with the ball. He is so nimble, so shifty and quick that he slides through the opposing team like an eel.

Manager McGraw recently procured one of the best football players of recent years in Frank Frisch. Frisch, who starred on the football team as well as on the baseball line at Fordham, is equally at home on the diamond or football field.

NAVY MEN ARE TO RECEIVE MORE PAY

HOUSE COMMITTEE IS AGREED THAT SOME READJUSTMENT IS NECESSARY.

MANY ARE LEAVING SERVICE

Emergency Legislation Is Planned to Continue Shore Quarters Allowance for Officers—They Cannot Now Live Within Their Income.

By JAMES P. HORNADAY.

Washington.—Increased pay for the officers and personnel of the United States navy is being considered by the house naval affairs committee in extensive hearings. Members of the committee are practically united in the belief that some readjustment of naval pay should be made because of the increased cost of living. Some of the men in the navy are resigning to accept more lucrative civil positions, while thousands who served during the war have been discouraged from continuing in the service permanently because of the small pay. In order to make a just and satisfactory readjustment, Representative Butler, chairman of the committee, has asked the pay department to send before the committee not only high officers stationed in Washington, but officers and men from all branches of the naval service.

The navy has such a complex allowance system, Mr. Butler said, that it is impossible to get an accurate view of just what the men are receiving, from tables submitted by pay corps men here. Legislation will also be considered at the hearings to increase the number of officers in the navy. Evidence has been submitted to several members of the committee that the large reductions made by the house committee in the naval appropriation bill last June have made it necessary to cut the number of officers down to such a figure that not only the fighting efficiency of the navy, but its upkeep, is impaired.

To Continue Shore Quarters Allowance.

The first step of the committee will be in the nature of emergency legislation. The committee will urge the passage before the end of this session of the bill repealing a section of the naval appropriation bill, which discontinued shore quarters while they are serving on board ship. This usually amounts to about $30 to $35 a month, and was granted during the war, to assist naval officers in providing for their dependents while they were serving at sea.

The bill already has been reported to the house by the naval committee, with the recommendation that it be enacted because war prices still continue. When the bill is passed, Mr. Butler said, it would be made retroactive to October 1, so that the officers will lose none of the allowance. Sentiment in the committee, Mr. Butler and other members indicated, does not favor a flat percentage increase for all officers, but instead a readjustment of the salary scale. An increase of 25 per cent for rear admirals and captains would mean an additional sum of from $1,750 to $2,250, while the officers of lower grades, such as ensigns and lieutenants, would be increased $400 to $500 a year.

The increased cost of living has hit the lower grade officers practically as hard as those with four stripes, and the committee apparently does not favor granting such a large additional amount to the officers of higher grades. Increases that the men of lower grades deserve would increase the salaries of the higher grades to figures above the amount paid cabinet members. It was pointed out, Mr. Butler also said, he favored investigating the pay noncommissioned officers are receiving. Many of them, he said, are in the same position that junior officers are, and have several dependents.

The Case for the Officers.

Here is the way the officers of the navy have briefed their case:

It has been eleven years since any increase in pay has been granted to officers. The cost of living has been climbing by leaps and bounds. As an actual problem in simple arithmetic, a naval officer cannot live within his income. At a recent census, taken throughout the navy, it was found that a large majority went 7 per cent of their salary in debt during the last year. The case of the naval officer is very different from that of the small-salaried man in civilian life. At sea he has a budget of expenses in addition to that of his family.

In addition to the separate expense of the officers at sea, there is another problem which he does not have to meet—the question of transportation. When ordered from one point to another, the actual fare of the officer himself is paid, but not that of his family nor of his household goods.

There is not one branch of the government service in which the employees are not asking for more pay. A commission, created by congress more than a year ago will soon be ready to report as to the pay of the men and women employed in the executive departments. Another commission has already recommended an increase for postal employees and a bill giving the workers in that branch of the service more pay is now on its way through congress.

But Kentucky Man Says—"People Who Belong to Hay Fever Colony are Kidding Themselves."

Wouldn't Be Any Rose or Hay Fever if Simple Home Remedy Was Given a Chance.

"Yes, there's a real NINETY-NINE per cent effective remedy for hay fever or colds, flu, and other ailments. It's a simple home remedy. But I don't expect anyone to believe me, because the treatment is so easy and the cost not worth mentioning."

"The annual crop of hay-fever jokes would be mighty scarce if people would get an ounce of Mentholized Arcline and by just adding water that has been bottled make a pint of liquid that will prove a real help to all who suffer."

"Many of my hay-fever friends tell me that by starting to gargle and stuff or spray the nostrils a few times a day the expected severe attack often fails to appear and in cases where it does show up is very mild and does not annoy."

"The Better Class of Pharmacists" who dispense Mentholized Arcline say it will greatly modify any attack even when taken three or four days after hostilities begin.
